

ERP Software Solutions for Textiles

Mumbai, 10 -12 October 2009

intex presents its Textile ERP Suite at Techtexsil, India

Dear customers, partners and exhibition visitors,

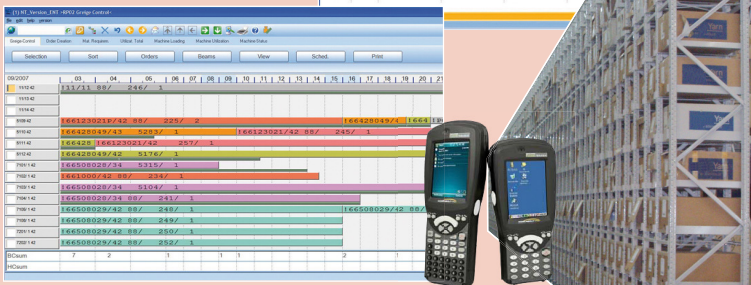

The Indian textile market is still a sunrise industry – in no way is its sun setting! Successful managers and textile companies have to focus on reinventing themselves and to increase productivity and competitiveness. One possible result is that textile mills are set to launch into newer product segments like Technical Textiles, which offers a huge potential for the textile industry in India.

intex has been successfully implemented at some of the leading Technical Textile companies in Germany such as Mehler Technologies, Delcotex GmbH etc.

With the experience and knowledge of implementations at Technical Textile companies in Germany, intex, the German ERP software for textiles is the ideal tool to serve as a standard system for your technical textile processes and products. The innovative ERP solution for textiles "intex" is designed to set new standards in productivity and to lift profits throughout the textile chain. With the high thrust on technical textile in India, intex is committed to extend its focus on this growing textile segment and aspires to be the preferred technology partner for the Indian technical textile industry.
